McAdoo, Smith and Davis Losing, Ralston Gaining

Balloting Continues All Day With Varying Results.

BOOM FOR RALSTON

McAdoo, Smith, John Davis Losing, Ralston Gaining—Move for Withdrawal Leaders.

Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Twelve more ballots today failed to bring the Democratic National Convention much nearer to an agreement upon a nominee for the presidency. About the only change in the situation the time of adjournment was a further loss to McAdoo and a movement toward Ralston of Indiana as a compromise candidate. Only slow progress was made by Ralston, however. The convention adjourned at the end of the fifty-fourth ballot with McAdoo 127, Smith 320¼, Ralston 92 and the other candidates about the same as during the last dozen ballots.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The long heralded boom for bringing the nomination to a close began today as a long succession of balloting approached the half century mark with Indiana leaders apparently convinced t leaders had been eliminated.

The first result was furthe crippling of McAdoo forces on the forty-ninth ballot when Mississippi left the Californian for Ralsten. At first the progress was slow but Indiana followers were not discouraged. Ralston had 63 on the fifty-first ballot, McAdoo dropping to 442 while Smith shifted to 328. Most of the other candidates were running along unchanged except Robinson who still held Oklahoma. His total, 43, was the same as that of Underwood.

McAdoo held another conference with advisors. Personal letters to all delegation chairmen having been sent out a short time before urging continued support. Besides Mississippi deserting the McAdoo camp, Iowa voted to abandon the unit rule and slipt its vote among several candidates.

The first two ballots today failed to reveal any radical changes in the line up of the different candidates before the Democratic National convention and resulted in little change from the votes last night. William Gibbs McAdoo lost the twenty votes of Oklahoma and dropped below the 500 mark with 483 1-10 at the start of the day's balloting but gained one in the next ballot. Smith gained one overnight making his vote 319½ Davis of West Virginia stood 71. On the forty-fourth ballot the one on which James M. Cox was nominated at San Francisco four years ago, Carter Glass released 24 Virginia delegates pledged to him but the delegation decided to continue voting for him until they agreed where to throw their vote. Scattering vote was unchanged overnight.

Forty-third ballot: McAdoo lost Oklahoma City's votes which went to Senator Robinson of Arkansas. McAdoo 483 4-10, Smith 319 1-10, Davis of West Virginia 71, Underwood 40, Robinson 44, Ritchie 17½, Cox 54, Ralston 31, Glass 24, Walsh 1, Davis of Kansas 3, Owen 3, Saulsbury 6.

Forty-fourth ballot: McAdoo 484 4-10, Smith unchanged, Davis unchanged, Underwood 30, Davis of Kansts 2, Edwards 1, Robinson, Ritchie, Cox, Ralston, Glass, Walsh, Owen and Saulsbury unchanged.

Forty-fifth ballot: McAdoo 483 4-10, Smith unchanged, Davis of West Virginia 73, Underwood 38, Davis of Kansas 3, others unchanged.

Forty-sixth ballot: McAdoo 486 9-10 Smith unchanged, Davis of West Virginia, 71, Underwood 38½, Ritchie 16½, others unchanged.

Forty-seventh ballott: McAdoo 484 4-10, Smith 321 1-10, Davis of West Virginia 71., Robinson 45. All the others were unchanged.

Forty-eighth ballot: McAdoo 483½, Smith 321, Glass 25, others unchanged.

On the forty-ninth ballot Mississippi went for Ralston of Indiana. McAdoo 462½, Smith 320½, Davis of West Virginia 63½, Underwood 42, Robinson 46, Cox 53, Ralston 57, Davis of Kansas 2. Others unchanged.

ALASKAN CABLE FINISHED SOON

Will Be One of Largest In the World—First Section Finished Recently.

Associated Press

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, July 3.—With the completion of a new cable between Seattle and Seward, Alaska, next fall by the United States army, Ketchikan will be one of the largest cable stations in the world, according to officials handling the laying of the line.

The first section of the new cable which links Seattle and Ketchikan was finished May 31 by the cableship Dellwood. The Dellwood then went to London to load cable for a second section which will connect Ketchikan and Seward. Another new line is to link Juneau, Wrangell, and Petersburg with this city. Ketchikan will then be a relay office for four lines, two going into southeastern Alaska, one to Seward and one to Seattle. All these cables will be used commercially.

The new cable will be equipped for duplex operation, enabling six times as much traffic to be handled as on the old line from Seattle to Sitka.

Louisville Livestock

Cattle, 300, slow and unchanged; hogs, 1,000, mostly 10 higher, 85 to $7.35; sheep, 1,700, steady and unchanged.

Fiftieth ballot: McAdoo 461½, Smith unchanged, Davis of West Virginia 61, Underwood 42½, Robinson 44, Cox 51, Ralston 58, Glass 21, others unchanged.

Fifty-first ballot: McAdoo, 442, Smith 328, Davis of West Virginia 67½, Underwood 43, Cox 55, Ralston 63, Walsh 2½, others unchanged.

Fifty-second ballot: Missouri's 36 votes went to Ralston on the fifty-second ballot. McAdoo 412½, Smith 320½, Ralston 95, Davis of West Virginia 39½, Robinson 42, Cox 54, Walsh 1, Governor Bryan of Nebraska 6, Davis of Kansas, none. Owen, Saulsbury and Ritchie unchanged. George Goreon Battle, New York lawyer, 20 from North Carolina.

Fifty-third ballot: McAdoo 423½, Smith unchanged, Davis of West Virginia 63, Ralston 94, Underwood 42½, Robinson 43, Glass 25, Bryan of Nebraska 6, Cox, Ritchie, Owen, Saulsbury unchanged.

Fifty-fourth ballot: McAdoo 427, Smith unchanged, Davis of West Virginia 62, Underwood 40, Ralston 92, Ritchie 17½, Owen 3, Bryan of Nebraska 7, Franklin D. Roosevelt 1, Cox, Walsh, Saulsbury unchanged, Glass 24.

Senator Ralston of Indiana was given a solid block of Mississippi votes on the forty-ninth ballot and began to pick up scattering votes elsewhere. Ralston's manager apparently started a drive to end the deadlock. The switch of the Mississippi delegation cost McAdoo twenty votes bringing him down to 462½ while Smith stood 320½ and Davis of West Virginia 63½. Ralston's total jumped from 31 to 57. Meanwhile information of the conference of some members of the national committee discussed the possibility of requesting McAdoo and Smith to withdraw from the race entirely with hopes of ending the deadlock. They proposed that the two leaders withdraw simultaneously, the advantage therefore going to neither but something knocked the plan into the discard foor a few minutes later several committee leaders opposed the plan and Smith's manager commented only "Poo, poo."

HUNT FOR SON LASTING FIVE YEARS, CLOSES

STOLEN FROM HOME

Boy Was First Picked Up By Officers In Dazed Condition—Failed to Recognize Mother.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 3.—The five years search by Mrs. Florence Russell Smith of Trenton, Mass., for her son, Russell, who was kidnapped from their home near Boston ended with finding the son here, now eight years old.

The boy was picked up a year ago in a dazed condition by Chicago policemen and turned over to the juvenile authorities. His frequent repetition of the word "Trenton" led the foster-mother and authorities to communicate with Mrs. Smith who established the identity of her child through photographs. The boy did not recognize his mother.

Says No Convention Delegates Are Drunk

NEW YORK, July 3.—Dry Law Chief Yellowley is quoted in a New York paper yesterday as saying he is sure that hotels in New York have not supplied liquor to visitors. Mr. Yellowley says:

"I have not seen, and my agents have not seen, drunken delegates."

If there has been any conspiracy looking to the corruption and alienation of McAdoo delegates, the conspirators must have undertaken their task without an adequate supply of whiskey. There has been no evidence of the McAdoo enthusiasm of delegates yielding to wet whistles. The attack of Mr. McAdoo upon New York hospitality is regarded generally as being "pure bunk."

Motorists With One Tag Being Fined

A campaign to round up all auto license law violators is being made by local city and county officers. The practice of running with only one license tag has become quite common, officers say, and the belief is expressed that some drivers "split" their tags, making two suffice for two cars.

Prosecution of persons guilty of this practice will be vigorously done, the minimum fine for the offense in the county court being $10 and costs.

NO PAPER TOMORROW

Tomorrow being Independence Day, a legal holiday, there will be no publication of the Middlesboro Daily News.

METHODISTS FACE UNIFICATION PLAN

Issue to be Threshed Out in Meet at Chattanooga Now In Session.

By Associated Press.

CHATTANOOGA, July 3.—A special general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, was face to face here yesterday with the greatest problem it has encountered within the last eighty years—a proposal to unite the 7,000,000 Methodists of the country into one great body. The delegates were to determine whether the unification plan formulated by a joint commission of the northern and southern churches should be submitted to the regional conferences which compose the southern branch. Should two-thirds of the general conference approve submission each regional conference at its next annual meeting would vote upon the proposal and should three fourths of the minor bodies act favorable unification would be an accomplished fact, once the regional conferences of the northern branch general conference already has voted to submit the plan to its subordinate divisions.

There was every indication that the conference would not sail smooth seas. Many delegates believe the special session to be in violation of the church constitution and there were numerous reports that one of the first motions to be offered would provide for adjournment. Should such a motion be discussed it was freely admitted it would be debated from al langles. Its defeat virtually would be certain, it was said, and in this event there was talk of an attempt to stop the proceedings by appealing to federal court. Those in high authority would discuss such a plan although one of the bishops who believe the special conference is not legal said if there was a movement to go into court "we know nothing about it." The proposed motion for adjournment seemed to be an open secret for it was being discussed generally in hotel lobbies. So, too, was the injunction angle.

The bishops of the church will take little or no part in the proceedings of the conference unless the delegates invite them to do so. It was said, the privilege of the floor might be offered but that they might not see fit to accept the courtesy.

Sentiment of the delegates appeared to be overwhelmingly in favor of submission of the unification plan to the regional conferences. Some of them admitted the plan did not appear to be perfect but they expressed the belief that once the two branches of the church were united the rough spots could be ironed out with little difficulty.

ALIEN LAW WILL DENY POOR JOHN

Orthodov Wives Will Be Barred By Act.

EXCLUDES CHINESE

Brides From Celestial Kingdom Will Be Few Hereafter—Girls Now Under Ban.

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The new American immigration law with it provision excluding aliens ineligible to citizenship, is having quite an effect on San Francisco's historic Chinatown. The orthodox among the Chinese men are just beginning to realize that they will have to abandon the custom of sending to China after marriageable girls. Consequently the law is expected to make a radical change in the domestic situation on upper Grant Avenue and its byways.

The young Chinese has been in the habit of going back to China, claiming a bride, to whom he often had been betrothed since childhood, and bringing her back here. This arrangement had several advantages for the husband. The marital settlement required with his parents-in-law was much less in China, usually not exceeding a few hundred dollars. The girl had been raised to Oriental docility and followed him prepared to accept any sort of home he might provide.

The Chinese girl raised in San Francisco is a different creature. She has adopted the ways of American flappers, dress, bobbed-hair and independent ways. She has shed her eastern obedience. She marries whom and when she will and specifies the conditions under which she will take a husband. Furthermore her parents require much larger settlements than do the parents in China.

The immigration law prohibits the importation of brides from China. The American Chinese thus is forced to consider the Chinese girl already here. She is credited with having expensive tastes. She expects, contrary to the immemorial customs of China, a regular courtship, with trips to the theater, dinners, boxes of candy and jewelry. She is no chattel.

Austrian King Plays Harp at Linz Carnival

Associated Press

LINZ, Austria, July 3. The head of the nation playing a mouth organ was the spectacle afforded visitors to the fair at Linz the other day. Dr. Michael Hainisch, president of the Austrian republic, was a guest at the fair and stopped before the exhibit of a musical instrument maker. While the young man in charge demonstrated various instruments, someone asked the president what instrument he played.

The president, in genuine Viennese dialect, replied jokingly, "I play nothing but fotzhobel" (a Viennese localism for mouth organ). No sooner had the remark escaped his lips, than the attentive young man brought forth a box of mouth organs which he offered to the president and his escorts as souvenirs. A few minutes later the gaping crowd observed President Hainisch enthusiastically playing away at his 'fotzhobel."

MUTINY IN AIR FORCE SUBSIDES

Caused by Attitude of Government to Aviators—Surrenders to Troops.

Associated Press.

LISBON, July 3. The alleged negative attitude of the government toward the Portuguese air force, and its failure to assist to any great extent the officers engaged in the recent flight from Lisbon to Macao, is declared to have been the cause of a recent mutiny of 29 aviation officers. These men entrenched themselves in the Amadora aviation camp, near Lisbon, and for several days refused to surrender, although they were surrounded by nearly 1,000 troops.

The immediate cause of the mutiny was the dismissal of Major Duarte as army aviation chief and the appointment in his stead of Colonel Morais Sarmento, whom the officers refused to recognize on the ground that his appointment had not been sanctioned by parliament and was therefore illegal. The Minister of War, Major Olavo, whose decree had removed Major Duarte, ordered the disaffected officers to present themselves to Colonel Sarmento, but this they refused to do, and with the men under their command, entrenched themselves and refused to surrender unless Major Olavo resigned. Later the enlisted men were sent from the camp, the officers not wishing to involve the men in responsibility for the mutiny.

Nearly 4,000 troops were rushed to the camp, which was surrounded. General Pedroso de Lima with other officers finally entered the camp unarmed and persuaded the mutineers to surrender. They were imprisoned pending court martial proceedings.

Mining Improving In East Kentucky Field

WHITESBURG, July 3.—The coal business is gradually improving thru out the Elkhorn-Hazard coal fields of Eastern Kentucky as mines are operating on much better time than within the past six months.

There was sudden improvement when the announcement that the L. & N. had been given the right to construct its connecting link with the Clinchfield at Elkhorn City and that the connection would be built this year. Already the improvement had started, however, but there has been striking improvement since the announcement. Several of the operating companies have resumed mine operations after having been closed down for six or eight months, while others are now operating a much better time. It is announced that a number of companies around Dalna and Blackey in this county will resume within the next few days.

Bar President Speaks at Winchester on 4th

WINCHESTER, Va., July 3.—Hon. R. E. L. Saner of Dallas, Texas, president of the American Bar Association and also chairman of its committee on American citizenship, delivered a patriotic address here last night before the Virginia State Bar association. President Saner's subject was "Remove Not the Ancient Landmarks." He spoke in part as follows:

"Emerging from the darkness and gloom and cruelty of medieval Europe a few brave souls made their way to this American continent and founded here finally a government based on human rights and individual liberty, and dared to enunciate these principles in the Declaration of Independence and later to embody them in the Constitution of these United States.

"And what cloud of doubt so dark hangs over us today as that which loomed before the Colonies when they dared to declare their independence of the mother country, and to launch a self-governing republic based on the principles of individual freedom, of equality before the law, and of universal brotherhood."

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

Citizens of Middlesboro are planning one of the biggest Independence Day celebrations tomorrow that has ever been staged in this section of the state—one that will long be remembered by local people and hundreds of visitors from the surrounding country. People of this section look to Middlesboro for amusement, particularly on the Fourth of July, and if present plans are carried out they will not be disappointed this year.

Most typical of all American holidays, representative of the well known American spirit, the Fourth of July is the one day of the year when the entire nation, one and all, gives way to unbounded enthusiasm, good fellowship and joy of living all descending in direct ratio as the mercury ascends.

It is a period when thousands flock from the city to nearby summer resorts, hundreds leave upon motor and camping trips, and also a time when multitudes come from rural communities to the city filled with anticipation and joy at spending the holiday where celebrations may be staged in keeping with the true spirit of the holiday.

There will be less noise than in bygone years. While some grownups complain that the Fourth is degenerating into a synthetic thing, compared to the celebrations of their youths, others say that the passing of the turmoil of noise and destruction that formerly started on the day before the Fourth and continued through the day after the holiday, was silly and barbaric. Noise, they say, is not patriotism.

Certain it is that observance of the day seems to have acquired more reverence with the elimination of most of the noise and pyrotechnics with the attending accidents and fatalities.

Middlesboro business men have cooperated splendidly in bearing the expense and sharing the work of staging the celebration which will take place tomorrow. There has been no friction in the preliminary arrangements, the work has gone forward with a smoothness that argues that Middlesboro can have whatever it wants, provided the unified efforts of the city are bent toward a definite end.

JULY MONTH OF BIRTHDAYS

The tax is also repealed as it applies to musical instruments, silverplated flat tableware, articles used for religious purposes, articles sold or leased for an amount not in excess of $[illegible] or watches sold or leased for an amount not in excess of $[illegible].

There is to be a reduction July 2 in the manufacturer's tax on tires, parts, and so forth, of automobiles, of from 5 per cent to 2½ per cent.

LAFOLLETTE IS WILLING TO BE NEW CANDIDATE

Will Lead Third Party If Requested; Meet July 4.

FOR LABOR TICKET

Outcome of Conference Contingent Upon Actions of Present Convention, Supporters Say.

CLEVELAND.—Unless all present signs fail the conference for Progressive Political Action which meets here July 4 and 5 is expected to name Robert M. LaFollette for president on a third party independent ticket, so [illegible] the organization believe.

The Wisconsin senator has [illegible] his willingness to become a candidate on a third party ticket if [illegible] wanted.

The convention of the conference has been given impetus by the failure of congress to enact farm and industrial legislation and a statement issued by the conference bureau declaring that a new flood of requests for action had been received from organizations of farmers and labor. More [illegible] groups, chiefly in the [illegible] have indicated they would be represented.

The convention was called by the adoption of a resolution at the convention of the conference meeting in St. Louis February 12th.

The resolution requested a convention of workers, farmers and progressives. It [illegible] that the convention [illegible] for the purpose of taking action on the nomination of candidates for the office of President and Vice President of the United States and on other questions that may come up. Delegates representing [illegible] states attended the St. Louis meeting.

Friends of Senator LaFollette here say he does not expect to be elected president. The most the leaders of the conference expect is to carry from six to eleven northwestern states having 52 to 80 electoral votes. All things being favorable they look to the election of the next president in the house of representatives.

His supporters here figure LaFollette will carry six states: Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota and Montana. Five others listed as possibilities are Nebraska, Wyoming, Washington, Idaho and Colorado.

The conference for several years has been building up an organization with which to make itself a political power.

That power, said a spokesman, was first demonstrated in the election of 1922, when the so-called radical group of senators, Wheeler in Montana, Howell in Nebraska, Dill in Washington, Frazier in North Dakota and Shipstead in Minnesota were elected.

The writing of the LaFollette platform presents no difficulties. It has already been written, made public at the Republican National convention in Cleveland when the Wisconsin delegation failed in an attempt to have it adopted and with few changes will be ready for presentation to the country as the platform of the new third party.

William H. Johnston of Washington, president of the International Association of Machinists, [illegible] the chairman of the conference and Warren S. Stone of Cleveland, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, vice chairman.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

By Harry B. Hunt

NEW YORK.—The biggest visitor to the Democratic national convention proved to be that persistent and [illegible] by Dame Rumor.

The result was that the convention [illegible] all previous gatherings in the [illegible] volume and [illegible] of its gossip.

Naturally enough this being a Smith stronghold and Smith partisans [illegible] on every hand, the large proportion of the gossip was of a sort calculated to build up a widespread support for the candidacy of the New York governor. It constantly pictured him as growing stronger and stronger, as winning over delegates right and left who would swing to him after the second or third ballot, as growing steadily in recognition as the one man who could sweep north, east, west and south, winning over wet and dry, Klan and anti-Klan by the power of his appeal and personality.

The chief channel through which the Smith sentiment was sought to be impressed upon the delegates was through the New York newspapers.

This was particularly true with respect to the Times and the World, recognized Democratic organs, on which visiting delegates chiefly depended for their information as to how sentiment was shaping. The Smith slant was so persistently present in the columns of these papers that one gathered the result was a foregone conclusion, that although a few perfunctory ballots would be needed to discharge instructions and favorite son obligations, as soon as this was done the landslide to Smith would be fast and irresistible.

This was the attempt to build up convention psychology—the thing that was in the mind of the anti-McAdoo forces last winter when they fought to bring the convention to New York. For this is the stronghold of anti-McAdooism. The interests and influences and influences most hostile to the former secretary of the treasury and director general of railroads [illegible] on their own ground [illegible] it was felt could maneuver [illegible] to block the progress of the California candidate.

The grooming of Smith [illegible] New York [illegible] the psychological [illegible] applied was [illegible]. After Smith had been [illegible] McAdoo [illegible] then the boom would [illegible] with John W. Davis [illegible] the New York preference.

The [illegible] in the psychological squeeze play was [illegible] McAdoo. And recognizing the utility of a [illegible] clamor was given [illegible].

Even Richmond Pearson Hobson, who [illegible] the spirit of American [illegible] the other Merrimac [illegible] the channel was unable to [illegible] the flow of Smith propaganda even with an anti-dope plank.

Hobson, after leaving the navy, became one of the leaders in the prohibition [illegible] played an active part in getting across the eighteenth amendment. Indeed he claims to have introduced in the house while he was a member from Alabama the first proposal for a constitutional amendment against alcoholic liquor.

Now that prohibition has been made law, Hobson has turned his guns on narcotic drugs—dope. He brought to the convention a platform plank dealing with that issue.

Being dry and pro-McAdoo, Hobson didn't take kindly to invitations to hop aboard the Smith band wagon. That, too, he felt was loaded with dope. Not the narcotic sort, perhaps, not cocaine, morphine or heroin, but a political dope not less dangerous to Democratic well-being and bound to put the party to sleep next November.

To which the Smith boosters replied that Hobson was full of hop himself.

Hawaiian Volcano Presents Beautiful Fireworks Display

Associated Press

VOLCANO HOUSE, Island of Hawaii, [illegible]—Halemaumau, the Hawaiian House of Everlasting Fire and pit of the active volcano of Kilauea continues spasmodically to present a display of terrible natural powers which has not been excelled within the memory of living man. Renewed activity may rock the entire island, it is predicted by scientists.

Violent outbursts, wracking the throat of the firepit and sending incandescent boulders hurtling high into the void, have occurred on an average of twice daily during recent days, accompanied by heavy dust clouds which are split and rent by bolts of lightning and peals of thunder. Earthquakes of varying intensity have been an almost constant concomitant of the eruptions. Steam roars from the cauldrons of the crater and huge avalanches of rock, which once formed the rim of the crater, go crashing down to be hurled up again by the next explosion.

Tremendous subterranean forces are at work under the surface in the pit and under the earth of the surrounding region. Serious quake shocks have occurred in the Puna and Kau districts, opening wide cracks in the surface, some as wide as 200 feet.

With the descent of the rock avalanches, mushrooming clouds of dust, one rising atop the next, caught in the whirl of heat from below, balloon upward and outward, giving the pit the appearance of a vast factory chimney. Caught by the trade winds, the murky banner trails off toward Kau, the fire particles held within its folds falling like rain and painting the landscape near at hand with a lavender smear, in the distance with a covering that appears almost like banks of snow. Beneath this canopy of cloud the sun is blotted out and the countryside is darkened as by an approaching thunderstorm.

BEAUTY ON THE WIRE

The telephone maiden of Paris
Are not picked for the voice with a smile;
They choose them for size and for violet eyes,
And figure and slimness and style.
They are not expected to greet you
With softly contralto "'allo's,"
But they must have nice hair and must know how to wear
The smartest Parisian clothes.

The telephone service in Paris
Is somewhat uncertain and queer,
You must put in a call by the middle of fall
If you hope for an answer next year.
For even the smallest of numbers,
The wait will be weary and long,
And then, by and by, when you get a reply,
You'll find the connection was wrong.

The telephone magnates of Paris,
You would fancy, more careful would be,
What is feminine grace or a beautiful face,
Which subscribers can't possibly see,
Compared to immediate answers
And numbers that always are right,
And a soft dulcet tone coming over the phone,
Though the girl at the board is a fright?

However, when phoning in Paris,
You never will bellow or screech,
Or be loud or profane if you know that the Jane
At the end of the line is a peach,
You always will speak to her gently,
Though you wait all day long for a call,
And therefore, perhaps, these Parisian chaps
May not be so dense, after all

They also played Columbus, New Albany, Jeffersonville, Seymour, and Washington, Ind., and dozens of towns in Kentucky. This is no doubt the best orchestra that ever played for a dance in this territory, and judging from the comment of the younger set, the hotel will have a capacity crowd.

OAKLAND, Cal.—Williams W Ellsworth, a magazine editor, offered, in a recent lecture at Mills College here, these observations on poetry in this country:

"There are 25 poets to every 115,000 persons. One in 5,000,000 is a real poet.

"The quality of verse in the United States has improved greatly in the last decade."

Knowledge of Sound Transmission Grew Out of Submarine Warfare.

Associated Press

SEATTLE, July 3—Equipped with a radio position finder and a sonic depth measurer, the steamer Guide of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, which has recently entered upon the task of mapping the waters off the Pacific Coast to a depth of 1,000 fathoms, was pronounced in the offices of the survey here the most up to date vessel for her work in the world.

The devices on the Guide grew out of cooperative efforts to combat the submarine in the World War. These efforts engaged the army, the navy and many American civilian electricians. The study has been continued since the war, particularly by the Coast Artillery Corps of the army. The Sound Laboratory of the Bureau of Standards developed the apparatus used by the Guide to determine her position.

Knowledge of the transmission of sound gained in these efforts and applied aboard the Guide enables her commander to determine her position and the depth of the water in her vicinity without leaving her radio room.

To get the position of the Guide a small TNT bomb is exploded astern 20 feet under the surface of the water. This is done electrically. The sound wave set in motion by the explosion travels in enlarging circles. When this wave reaches a hydrophone (a device 60 feet under the surface of the water and about half a mile from the shore, to which a cable runs) the hydrophone sends a signal ashore, and a shore station automatically sends a radio signal to the Guide.

Figuring from the speed of travel of the sound, the commander of the Guide quickly determines his distance from the shore station. And determining his distance from two stations he knows his position.

The task taken up by the Guide, and on which she is to work in the summer off Oregon and Washington and in winter off California, was dropped In 1922 in the Lydonnia

INFLATED CURRENCY LIFTS GERMAN DEBTS

Real Estate Less Burdened With Mortgages — Ninety Per Cent Cleared.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 3.—There is probably no country in the world with real estate less burdened with mortgages than Germany today, says Manfred Wronker-Flatow, legal adviser of the American Chamber of Commerce in Germany, writing in a trade publication of that organization. He estimates that more than 90 per cent of all German mortages were cleared off and release given for payment in paper marks in the inflation days.

"All this has been achieved," asserts the writer, "at the expense of those persons and institutions who formerly looked upon a mortgage as the most secure form of investment, and whose faith has been rewarded by utter impoverishment."

Considerable real estate was bought in Germany by foreigners, especially Americans, after the November, 1918, revolution when owners of house property in many instances were compelled to sell at great sacrifices in order to avoid being ruined because of legislation designed to protect the tenants.

Swedes Find Process to Obtain Shale Oil

STOCKHOLM, July 3.—A total of 245,000,000 tons of fuel oil can be derived from Sweden's deposits of bituminous shale, according to estimates of engineers published in connection with the announcement that production of shale oil is about to begin on a large scale at Kinnekulle.

Since Sweden is entirely dependent on imports for her coal and petroleum for many years attention has been directed to the economic importance of finding some way of producing fuel from her vast deposits of alum slale.

A highly satisfactory solution has been reached by two Swedish engineers and the considerable quantities of oil which they have already produced has been tested practically by the Swedish navy on oil-burning vessels and by various industrial establishments. The results show that shale oil can comptee successfully with all except the more refined grades of petroleum oil.

This group came into being shortly before the recent elections, and its members refused to take any part in the voting. The ultimate purpose of the league is to replace the present "capitalistic" system of government by proletarian rule, and its weapon is simple non-co-operation.

The group includes the brilliant Dr. Sazuko Yoshino, most famous of Japanese radical writers and thinkers; Prof. Isoh Abe, of Waseda University; Tatsupi Fuse, correspondent in Moscow for the Osaka Mainichi and the Tokio Nichi Nichi, and Kesaya Yamasaki, a prominent attorney.

CYRILLIC ALPHABET HAS ANNIVERSARY

Bulgarians Have Unique Holiday — Salonica Is Birthplace.

By Associated Press.

SOFIA, July 3—The Bulgarian people celebrated a unique holiday on May 21 when throughout the country was observed the "name day" of the Slavic, or Cyrillac, alphabet and of its creators, the monks Cyril and his brother Methodius. It was in the ninth century and from the city of Salonica that these holy men promolgated their alphabet which was designed to propogate the Christian faith among Slavic peoples.

One of the notable observances took place at the Monastery of St. Ivan of Rila, in the mountains above Samokov where the Bulgarian letters created by the apostles from Latin, Greek and Hebrew material, were preserved from extinction during the Turkish domination of five centuries.

The celebration of the day is also marked by the Orthodox Church to recall the introduction of Christianity among the Bulgarian people, and its spread to the other Slavic peoples by the folowers of Sts. Cyril and Methodius.

AMUSEMENTS

"Wild Bill," Killer But to Keep Peace

Probably few men have been more misunderstood than those of the famous gunmen who flourished in the palmy and romantic days of the old West. It is often assumed that these men killed through sheer blood-lust but nothing could be farther from the truth.

There were desperadoes, it is true, who slew for the lust of killing. But these men were not the true gunmen; they were outlaws and renegades. It was a brave and fearless crew, who daily risked their lives in the pursuit of duty as peace officers. They were Bat Masterson, who died in New York recently, Wyatt Earp, who still lives, Charlie Bassett, Bill Tilghman, Luke Short, Doc Holliday, Chalk Beeson and that most famous of all old time gunmen, Wild Bill Hickok, in which role William S. Hart makes his return to the screen, and which Paramount picture will be shown at the Manring theatre next Friday.

Wild Bill first won fame as a scout. He drifted farther west in the vanguard of civilization and one day engaged in a desperate fight with a notorious gang of stage robbers, the McCord outlaws. It was one man against nine. Hickok, despite terrible wounds, killed eight of the gang and then fought a duel to the death with McCord, the leader, with bowie knives. McCord died and Hickok went to a hospital for a year.

Hickok's fame was now great. He became marshal of Hays, Abilene and Ellsworth. Wild Bill never killed a man until forced to. To uphold the law he had to kill forty-six men. For a time Wild Bill worked as a faro dealer in Dodge City. Bat Masterson was sheriff of Dodge City and he decided the place needed cleaning up. He appealed to Wild Bill to buckle on his six-guns and help. One day the storm broke and the most furious gun battle in western history swept Dodge City. The peace officers, headed by Bat Masterson, and the outlaws headed by the notorious Jack McQueen, fought for supremacy and the peace officers won.

It is in his true light that Wild Bill's picturesque career is told in the thrilling and faithful characterization by William S. Hart, who has come from retirement to produce "Wild Bill Hickok", for Paramount release. "Wild Bill Hickok" is the first of nine special Paramount productions which Mr. Hart will make under the direction of Clifford Smith. In this picture the star is supported by such prominent players as Ethel Grey Terry, Kathleen O'Connor, Carl Gerard, Jack Gardner, James Farley and others.

Fruit, Toilet Items Scarce in Rhineland

BERLIN, July 3.—Roast chicken, eggs, black bread and cakes and other edibles produced locally, are reasonable in price in Russia, but when it comes to fruit, toilet articles, or anything else which has been imported, they usually are nearly worth their weight in gold, according to Dr. Wilbur K. Thomas of Philadelphia, executive secretary of the American Friends Society.

Dr. Thomas recently completed an inspection trip of several weeks in Russian districts where the Quaker organization is still assisting the inhabitants. At te railroad tations on different routes he noted that an entire roast chicken sold for approximately 75 cents, while a lemon, which had been imported, cost as much as the chicken.

LONG TUNICS ARE WORN THIS YEAR

Dame Fashion Decrees All-White Costumes in Paris This Season.

PARIS, July 3.—Long tunics are in the forefront of the new fashions. Smartly dressed women and professional mannequins are appearing everywhere in Paris and at the races in the forty-inch tunic. Whether this long overblouse is [illegible] or simply designed for out-of-door wear, it must reach to the knees and below and show long clinging lines.

The long tunic gives further as one of the features of beauty of the coat this fall, for it will be a most important part of the three-piece suit. It will also be worn with the satin skirt or slip and shall then the dress in both design and cut. The one sure fact at present is that it is stamped with the approval of the best French costumers and that approval is evident in the extent to which it is seen at all public affairs.

For the present the all-white costume has precedence over colors in Paris. Here the white two-piece suit or frock is regarded as the smartest of the mid-summer styles.

The wide belt is seen everywhere. No longer is the waistline anchored around the hips and with the gradual [illegible] of the normal line has come the [illegible] leather belt as one of the [illegible] and accessories of the season. Soft pliable white kid and suede in brilliant color and [illegible] are used to exploit a [illegible] that has all the charm of an absolute novelty.

So frequently is the leather belt seen that there is every indication that it will be an important, almost inevitable accessory of fall frocks on both sides of the Atlantic. With suede dress trimmings and suede hats, the belt fits perfectly into the tout ensemble, along with suede gloves and shoes.

Crab Stowaways From China to Fatherland

Associated Press.

HAMBURG, Germany, July 3—Riding as stowaways all the way from China to Germany, a brood of crabs known to the scientist as "eriocheir," has settled down in the Tile river and is enriching this stream by a hitherto unknown species of fauna. The crabs fastened themselves to the bottom of ships plying between Hamburg and China in the opinion of German zoologists, and are here beginning to multiply. Fifteen specimens thus far have been discovered.

The crab in question is characterized by long hair on the shears. A group of fishermen caught several of these queer looking animals in their nets and took them to th estate Zoological institute, where they were identified as a type found only in Chineses waters.

German scientists are delighted over the find and hope that "eriochier" will in due time become a name familiar to every German school boy.

IRELAND TO REGAIN EXPORT EGG TRADE

Bill Providing Packing Under Supervision Promises to Regain Declining Trade.

Associated Press.

DUBLIN, July 3.—Patrick Hogan, the Free State minister for lands and agriculture, has introduced into the Dail a bill to regulate the export of eggs. Eggs are one of the most important of Irish exports, and the industry has recently shown signs of deterioration. In 1921 Ireland exported $50,000,000 worth of eggs, poultry and feathers, the value of the export being second only to that of cattle.

For the year ended March 30, 1924, the Free State export of eggs was only about $17,000,000. Part of the diminuation is attributed to a fall in prices and the expansion of opportunity for continental competitors since the war. Before the war the Irish export was more than 50 per cent greater than the Danish. Now it is less.

Under Mr. Hogan's bill all eggs for export must be collected in premises registered by the ministry of agriculture, tested and graded under official supervision and packed in standard boxes. It is hoped by abolishing defective packing and grading to double the Irish egg export.

Primitive Spoons

The origin of the spoon was very likely a shell fitted to a wooden or bone handle. Caddy spoons, which were only used after the custom of teadrinking was well established, were nearly all with shell-shaped bowls, and were very small at first, to fit into the small caddy boxes and the small china cups, for tea was scarce and used in small quantities. Tea-drinking was not done on a large scale in England until the days of George II.

Who, but woman, if you please.—William Makepeace Thackeray.

Ink stains, if fresh, will come out if washed with milk and water, but when long standing oxalic acid and water must be rubbed into the stain. The proportion is one teaspoonful of acid to half a teacupful of water.

Silver Penned Editor Makes Hot Tongued Sandwich

LYON Mearson, editor of the Metropolitan Magazine and whose book, "The Whisper on the Stair" will be published this fall, believes that sandwiches are suffering from a lack of imagination. So Mr. Mearson, as seen in the picture, has turned some of his creative powers to the task of bringing a little originality into the life of the sandwich. He has started his missionary work with a hot tongue sandwich which, even more than the proverbial soft answer, is guaranteed to turn away wrath and make the heart (if you like to put it that way) glad.

Here is Mr. Mearson's formula:

6 slices Bread
½ cupful Crisco
⅛ teaspoonful Salt
⅛ teaspoonful Mixed Mustard
Chopped Tongue
1 Egg, beaten light
½ cupful Milk
¼ teaspoonful Salt

Cut the slices of bread one third of an inch thick, cut in half and remove crusts. Cream the Crisco, beat in the salt and mustard and use to spread the bread rather lightly, then spread half the slices with the tongue and press two pieces together, sandwich fashion. Add the milk and salt to the egg and mix thoroughly. In this dip the sandwiches, first on one side and then on the other. Melt

LOCAL GOLFERS MAY ENTERTAIN DISTRICT MEET

Meeting Here Saturday Night to Decide Place.

PLAN FIVE EVENTS

Efforts Being Made to Get Club of Central Kentucky to Join Dictrict for Tournaments.

Middlesboro golfers who so splendidly entertained the Kentucky State Golf tournament here last week are having hopes of bringing the Southeastern Kentucky meet here also. Plans for this district tournament will be made and the date and place decided at a meeting to be held at the Hotel Cumberland Saturday night.

John M. Miller, secretary of the Southeastern Kentucky Golf Association, has written the following announcement to secretaries of the various golf clubs of this district:

"I am authorized by F. P. Scales, President of the Southeastern Kentucky Golf Association to advise that there will be a meeting held Saturday, July 5th at 1:00 p. m. at the Cumberland Hotel in Middlesboro, for the purpose of arranging for the 1924 meet and to take up the question of having Central Kentucky join us and such other questions as may come up.

"It was our understanding last year that we were to entertain the 1924 meet, but this does not appear to be fully understood by all. Therefore, in order to settle the matter and arrange this properly and satisfactorily to all members, we are calling this meeting and trust that you will have some one present to represent your club, for if we can get Central Kentucky in we can have an excellent meet.

"Bring your clubs and come and we will mix golf and business."

In the event Middlesboro entertains the meet, there will be open events in which all golfers may take part. John Marshall, state champion, Louis Tachau, recent contender for the title, Tom Green, Frank Feht, Ted Otteman, Jim Beam of Danville and other well known golfers of the state are expected to play in this flight.

There will be five flights in all if the tournament is played over the local course, Mr. Miller stated. In view of the fact that Middlesboro is better able to have the tournament on account of the accomodation its clubhouse affords and the splendid condition of the course which was praised by prominent golfers in the recent meet, there is little doubt that the tournament will be played here.

At the meeting Saturday night there will be representatives from Pineville, Harlan, Barbourville and officers of the local club to work out arrangements for the meet. Hopes that Central Kentucky will join with Southeastern Kentucky in the golf event are being entertained and this question will no doubt be decided at the meeting.

Salt, added to snow, gives it an even lower temperature.

JUNIOR COLLEGE AT FLAT GAP. VA.

Under Same Management As Pine Mountain School—Open Next Year.

Associated Press.

FLAT GAP, Va., July 3.—The United Christian Missionary society, thru its representative, Prof. E. F. Jennings, of Lynchburg, has practically completed arrangements to establish a junior college at Flat Gap, a distance of a few miles from Norton. A contract has been made for forty acres of ground and work on six buildings will begin in the near future.

The school, it is said, will open its doors in 1925 and will have an academy, a junior college, and a school for business training. Twelve teachers will be employed at first.

The Pine Mountain school is controlled by the same organization, and will be used as a "feeder" for this school, which is designed to serve the young people of the mountains who are unable to attend elsewhere. Flat Gap is a small village on the Kentucky-Virginia border. The county adjacent is somewhat thickly setled, and the people throughout that section are very much interested in securing every educational advantage for their children. The site selected is in a valley among rolling hills and is very beautiful and picturesque.

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW NET GAINS

Increase Over First Half of Last Year Show Good Business In Middlesboro.

In spite of the fact that the general impression is that business is dull in Middlesboro and vicinity the postal records show that conditions are better than during the first half of last year. Economic conditions are reflected more accurately by the postal business than any other, business experts say, and the report from the postoffic is encouraging.

Postal receipts for the first six months of 1923 were $15,230.23 and for the six months just ending they aggregated $15,618.09, showing a net gain of $387.86. This is not any great increase but it shows that the postal business is holding its own with even a small gain. A gain of $80.21 for the quarter recently ending over a similar period last year is shown from the records.

The postal books continue to indicate that more than twice as much money is being sent out of Middlesboro by money orders as are received from the same source. A total of $10,518.57 was sent out of town by domestic money orders during June and only $4,129.74 was received. Only five dollars were sent off by foreign money orders.

DESIRE REVISION OF TIME TABLES

Associated Press

MUNICH, Germany, July 3.—Considerable pressure is being brought to bear upon the German railway administration to adopt the system of time by the hours of 1-24 instead of 1-12 A. M. and 1-12 P. M. Travelers returning from Switzerland, Italy and Austria point out how much easier the system in vogue in these countries is, where everybody knows that 17 o'clock is 5 P. M.

Several years ago an international congress for standardizing the railway time tables of continental Europe was held at Basle, in Switzerland. At this congress it was unanimously decided to introduce the 24-hour system as soon as possible. The German railway administration holds that the expense is too great for the German state.

CARS LINE UP FOR 250 MILE RACE

Kansas City To Have a Championship Event Tomorrow.

MOST EXCITING EVER

Dusenberg, Miller and Durant Teams to Compete In Speed Contest.

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, July 3.—With 16 automobile drivers entered in the 250 mile national championship classic here July 4, motor racing interest in America will focus on Kansas City. Virtually all of the famous drivers will be entered.

Indications are that the race will be the most exciting ever seen in competition between the Duesenberg, Miller and Durant teams. Duesenberg surprised many motor fans in the racing world at Indianapolis this year when the car won the 500 mile race, although it failed to make a showing in the Altoona 250 mile race, June 14.

The world's speed record of 116 miles an hour is held by Harlan Fengler, youthful Kansas City driver, hung up at Los Angeles last February in dry, cool weather. Fengler's tires stood up well under the grind and he made the entire distance without a stop.

The average at Altoona June 14 was 114 miles an hour, although it is believed a wet track was partly responsible for the slower time.

The speedway here will have only the one motor race this year. The entry list, as it recently stood, follows:

Driver	Car
Harlen Fengler	Durant Special
Jimmy Murphy	Miller Special
Tommy Milton	Miller Special
Earl Cooper	Studebaker Special
Harry Hartz	Durant Special
Fred Comer	Durant Special
Bob McDonough	Miller Special

"ALABAM" HAS NEW MEANING, SAYS WRIGHT

No More 'Here We Rest' In the Cotton State.

"THICKET - CLEANERS

New Nomenclatere Given to the Heart of Dixie By Learned Choctaw

Associated Press.

MONTGOMERY, Ala, July 3—Popular belief that "Alabama," translated from the tribal Indian tongue, means "Here We Rest," has been dealt a jolt under the light of philological research.

This more pleasing translation, according to the 1923 issue of the Alabama Official and Statistical Register just off the press, originated during the early fifties and gained widespread popularity through the writings of Judge A. B. Meek.

"Alabama" was the name of a noted southern tribe of Indians whose habitat was in what is now central Alabama, the register says. The largest river of this territory was named after the Alabama Indiana and the state derived its name from this river.

Recent investigations have brought forth an agreement between two prominent students of Indian dialects, the books says. Rev. Allen Wright, a highly educated Choctaw, translates the word to signify "thicket-clearers." His opinion is that the word is compounded from "Alba," meaning a thicket, or mass of vegetation, and "amo," meaning to clear, or to gather up.

H. S. Halbert, another student of tribal dialects concurs in this belief, giving a slightly different translation, "vegetation-gatherers."

Compared with the heretofore readily accepted translation of "Here We Rest," the register says, this latest etymology may be regarded a trifle prosaic, but, it reasons, it more nearly represents the character of Alabamans of today and of the past, who have depended upon their labor with the soil for a livelihood.

Ads of Civil War Days Show Style Amusing to Advertisers of Today.

Associated Press

MACON, Ga., July 3.—While "it pays to advertise," is an axiom of the present era, that knowledge must have been more or less common even in the days of the civil war, according to an advertisement of that period reprinted in a recent isue of the Macon Telegraph.

Here is the specimen which, while it is not recorded whether the advertisement brought results, would indicate that even grandfather knew of the advantages of telling the world:

"The concern of Roberts, Dunlap & Co., being somewhat demoralized, our Senior and Co., being in the hands of the doctors, and our middle man in the army, makes it absolutely necessary that those who owe us should settle without delay. We have some half-bushel, more or less, of due-bills given for cash and goods, payable in bacon, pork, corn, wheat, etc. We have no time, talent or shoe leather to waste in running after these claims. We want money (not gold or silver) but Confederate money and we want it at once. Our store is full of goods and we are anxious to sell fo, something to eat.'

Looking Years Ahead To Be Ready to Se

THE enormous additions to be made to the telephone system this year must be made to fit the plans of the future.

To do this economically and make the additions of the greatest service value, the engineers have already planned the work for a period of five years in the future.

Gross additions to the telephone plant of this Company, costing not less than $43,537,000 will be required during the next five years.

During this period it is estimated that there will be a net gain of 102,700 new telephones.

The money for this undertaking must be secured from investors who are willing to put their money in the telephone business in the South. They will not supply it unless they are assured of an annual net return which they consider reasonable.

Your state's share and your city's share in this rapid expansion of the telephone system is of great importance. A proper understanding of our problems and friendly co-operation on your part are necessary to the successful accomplishment of such a gigantic task.

More than $1,298,000 will be expended, for the construction of new plant and for additions and extensions to the Bell Telephone System in Kentucky during 1924.
